On 19th September 2014 at 9.30pm, this calico-coloured cat was found by a concerned member of the public, close to the lift landing of the 12th floor of Blk 654B Jurong West St 61 with several long, deliberate cuts on its body, and in an extremely weak and slightly drenched condition. Stitches were seen on the cat's nose and many parts of its body.

The cat was taken to a vet clinic, shortly after it was found in that condition.

Upon closer examination, the cat was found to have had its whiskers snipped off. Several injuries were found on parts of the cat's body, as follows:

- slash wounds on the nose region
- severe cut across its throat region
- long, clean cuts mainly on the body
- glue-like substance that has hardened on the crown of its head
- near-detached ear that was held together by the glue-like substance (which would need to be amputated, according to the vet's assessment)

The cat is currently under the care of the vet team in Point Veterinary clinic. It will be undergoing surgery involving the removal of the glue-like substance and stitches from its body.

The cat is also recovering at the vet clinic, and its condition is presently stable.

We believe the cat's earlier condition to be due to the cruel act done by a person as the cat's physical injuries clearly appear to be wilfully inflicted.

We are appealing to the public for any information or witnesses who may be able to identify the culprit(s) responsible so that necessary action can be taken against them. If you can help, please call the SPCA at 6287 5355 ext 9.

In Singapore, cruelty to animals is a crime. Under the Animals and Birds Act, anyone who is found guilty of such an offence including abandonment of any animal, can be imprisoned for up to 12 months, fined up to S$10,000, or both.
