Animal Rescue Highlight

This mynah bird was found with his head stuck between the ventilation slats at the ceiling of Sengkang MRT station on 3 December. Our Animal Rescue Officers hurried to the location during the morning rush hour. With team work and a gentle touch, they managed to extricate the unfortunate bird. The bird was subsequently sent to the Jurong Bird Park for treatment and recuperation.

Adoption Spotlight

Fifi is a cat. What does that mean? It means she knows she is beautiful and lovely and expects you to know it too; she wants to be left to snooze away the day anywhere in the house she pleases; she will tell you when she wants affection and you will give it to her; as a 4-year-old Persian, she will need daily grooming and may reward you with a bit of purring; and many other adorable kitty things! If you're willing and able to be a feline connoisseur and fulfil your cat-loving potential, come down soon! Fifi's waiting for you, but don't make her wait too long!

Inspectorate - Case Highlight

This heavily matted dog was found abandoned at the void deck of Blk 544 Bedok North St 3, in a closed cardboard box, which was taped up with minimal ventilation. It had a huge tumour-like growth on its front and had one front leg missing. We put up request-for-information posters, but have received none to date. A very kind soul has since taken on the responsibility of caring for the dog for the remainder of its days.

Education

Over the year end school holidays, we were busy bees at Woodlands Library creating awareness amongst the young members of Discover Club. Participants learnt about responsible pet ownership, how to prevent cruelty to animals, how to make a simple cat and dog origami and recited a pledge to always be responsible pet owners. What an awesome group! Want to organise something similar? Email educationpr@spca.org.sg!

Shelter

Happy Ending

This is our second adoption in six months and we can't tell you how much joy and peace this little kitten has brought us. Previously known as Vay, Nonie is her new name, as she is the little sister to Louis, (original name Fuzz). Both are adopted kittens and adjusted so fast. In fact, they've taken over the home – they sleep in the beds and each has their own character that makes us laugh everyday. We thank you all for bringing "these kids" into our lives! –Greg O'Neil
